The proposed installed capacity of Tripura Gas Based Power Project was initially framed at 500 MW. Due to reduced availability of gas from ONGC from 2.0 MMSCUMD to 1.0 MMSCUMD, the revised capacity of Tripura Gas Based Power Project is now 280 MW only. This project would be the second biggest gas based thermal power plant in the North East. The power form this project will basically meet the requirement of N.E. Region. Only after having met the requirement of N.E. Region beneficiaries, the surplus power, is envisaged for evacuation outside the N.E. Region.
